

Maryland Accreditation Five-Year Status Frequently Asked Questions

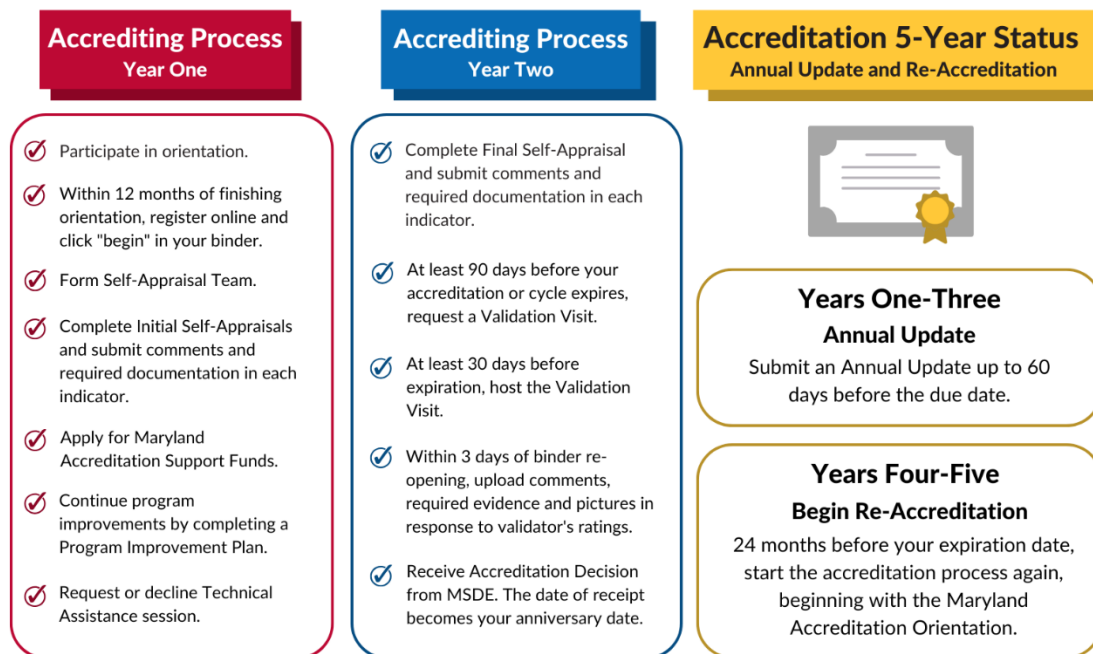

Q: How does the accreditation cycle work now?

A: The process to become Maryland Accredited is the same. During the 24-month accreditation process, your program will complete steps, submit documentation, and host a Validation Visit to become accredited.

After accreditation is awarded for five years, you are required to submit Annual Updates for the first 3 years of your accreditation. These may be submitted up to 60 days before your Annual Update due date.

During years four and five of your accreditation cycle, you will not submit an Annual Update. Your program should be focused on re-accreditation during this time.
